

Smart TV

Karen Wong

We are currently transitioning from Phase 2 to Phase 3, where we began conducting evaluations with residents, staff, and families at our care home site. At our geriatric acute care site, we set up projectors with audio so we can project TV videos onto the walls to provide patients with a more immersive experience. In addition, we now have a TV video app, which can be used on several devices. We hope that this increases convenience for staff and encourages them to use the videos with residents and/or patients.

On November 26, we hosted training with site staff members and learned that they have already started using our projectors. They shared stories about how videos helped calm patients down when they felt anxious. Some staff also expressed feeling like they themselves benefitted from the videos, which helped relax them during especially busy days.

